DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kolton et al. 5,074,447. Kolton discloses a garment hanger that is capable of being used with only one extremity of the user. The garment hanger employs radially directed force onto the rod that it is suspended from. The force holding the hanger to the rod stabilizes the hanger. With respect to Claim 2, the base portion in the instant application is seen to be the rod in the Kolton reference and is as arcuately shaped receptacle. With respect to Claim 3, the Kolton reference teaches the use of a rod, which can be placed any number of locations with respect to a user, to receive the garment hanger, which is capable of removably attaching to the bar to provide a stable hanger for use by a user with one extremity. With respect to Claim 4, the bar the Kolton invention attaches to is understood to be a conventional clothes hanger rod which are well known to be attached to vertical surfaces. With respect to Claim 5, the bar the Kolton invention attaches to is understood to be a conventional clothes hanger rod which are also well known to be attached to pedestals, both movable and immovable.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 6-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claim 6 recites the limitation that the hanger receptacle to be ovally shaped and receive both the hook and the neck portions of the hanger. The rod in the Kolton reference does not disclose nor teach this limitation. The Kolton reference teaches a hanger suitable for users with one extremity to use, but does not require the use of a special hanger receptacle.
